THE PROPER PHYSICIAN.

When the tongue of trade is coated, when the eyes and limbs of the clerks are dull and languid, when the raging fever tackles the empty vitals of the till, when the spider roosts in the empty cash box, and bouquets of decay are on the chandeliers, it is conclusive that the advertising doctor has not been consulted.

HARRY CORSON CLARKE AT THE NEVADA TONIGHT

An attraction that is sure to be popular is announced for tonight only. This is none other than the appearance of Harry Corson Clarke, the celebrated comedian, who will present his own selected company in Playwright Sydney Rosenfeld's screaming farce, "His Absent Boy." It is said that the star shines in this production as he has never shone before, and that his performance in the role of the hen-pecked husband, round whose peccadilloes and tribulations the story revolves, is such that it would draw a smile from the proverbial tombstone. Mr.

Clarke comes here with a great reputation as a funster, supported by a splendid company that is headed by that fascinating leading lady, Margaret Dale Owen, and with a production that has gained a chorus of general praise everywhere. There can be no doubt of the heartiness of his welcome, for in these days all theater-goers are hungering for the opportunity that such a visit affords to laugh heartily at wholesome fun presented in a thoroughly artistic manner.

The Reno Journal of Monday's issue speaks as follows of the Harry Corson Clarke company:

"Harry Corson Clarke made good before a Reno audience last evening at the Majestic theater in "His Absent Boy." From start to finish it proved to be a series of hearty laughs and he was ably supported.

"That the comedian could draw such a large house in spite of the fact that Madam Nordica and alias Jimmie a'Valentine had been the attractions of the week previous, speaks more forcibly of his popularity than any words possibly could.

"Margaret Dale Owen, and in fact, the entire company, were excellent. It is to be hoped that Mr. Mr. Clarke can be prevailed upon to play a return engagement."

NEW SCHEME FOR DRY PICKING SPRING CHICKENS

The Cedar Grove correspondent of a prominent New York daily is the latest aspirant for honorary membership in the Munchausen club.
The other day he sent to his paper a neat little story which deserves a place of honor in the realm of journalistic fiction. According to this yarn a Mr. Ames Kidder—that name was an inspiration—who is a dealer in chickens at Speaker-town, N. J., was dry-picking some broilers for the New York market the other day, when a brilliant idea came to him.

Without delay he proceeded to test this idea as to its practicability.
He started the vacuum cleaner which he had bought for his wife a few days before and, taking up one of the broilers, began to rub the nozzle of the cleaner over it. The effect was marvelous. The suction removed the feathers so thoroughly that the singeing of the usually remaining down could be dispensed with. Then another brilliant idea struck Mr. Kidder. He tied a pillow case to the receiving end of the vacuum cleaner's tube and continued his feather-sucking operation. In a few minutes the pillow case was filled with feathers and all that was left to be done was to sew up the opening. Who can beat that?
